

Patton Doubles Attack

Germans Claim Americans Making Preparations for New Offensive

By William Frye
LONDON, Nov. 9.—(P)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army infantry jabbed into a yielding Nazi line at four places along a snowy 50-mile front today in an attack supported by 1,300 U. S. heavy bombers which laid a carpet of explosives on front line enemy positions in the Metz area.

By William Frye
LONDON, Nov. 9.—(P)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., doubled his attack today, throwing in three more American divisions and extending his drive to both sides of Metz.

German radio commentators declared the U. S. Third army commander signalled the prelude to "the big offensive" with an earth-shaking barrage in an effort "to burst open the historical gate to the Palatinate which was chosen by Napoleon as the marching route for his battalions and regiments."

Front line dispatches said Patton sent two divisions into action north of fort-ringed Metz and another to join the three which attacked south of the city on a 25-mile front yesterday and gained up to three miles.

At least 16 villages were captured in the combined advance of the Third and Seventh armies, with two Third army corps, the 12th and 20th, in action. Several of the villages had been previously captured however, and relinquished in the face of counterattacks.

South of Metz the attack spread all the way from Cheminot, 10 miles south of Metz and four miles east of the Moselle, to the Chateau-Salins area where the doughboys hammered a mile-deep wedge north of the Rhine-Marne canal at a point 20 miles east of Nancy and an equal distance west of Saarebourg.

Suggest New Offensive

The Germans said the "Americans are making feverish preparations for a new offensive in the Aachen region" also and were seeking to eliminate German artillery observation posts by dropping smoke canisters on them. Artillery fire was intensified on both sides, the Germans said.

Soldier Vote May Decide

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(P)—Delayed counting of soldier ballots may hold up final decisions on two Senate and 15 House races.

In Missouri, tomorrow's count of GI votes may be necessary for a decision in one Senate and four House contests.

The final outcome of Pennsylvania's senatorial election and results in nine Pennsylvania House seats may not be known until soldier votes are tabulated November 22.

In Washington, a close House contest in the Fifth District may be determined by the soldier vote count on November 27, while in California the outcome of the House contest in the Fourth District may not be known with certainty until November 24.

In the nine Pennsylvania House contests, Republicans held the edge in seven districts and Democrats in two, while the Democratic nominee was ahead in the Senate race.

In the Fifth Washington and Fourth California, Democratic candidates likewise were ahead, while in Missouri's senatorial election the Republican candidate was ahead.

Government Sends News of John E. Lamy

Message to Wife States Broadcast Was Intercepted

A telegram received in Sedalia today, sent to Mrs. John E. Lamy, 705 West Broadway, from the Provost Marshal General, Washington, D. C., brought news of her husband, Dr. John E. Lamy, a lieutenant in the Army of the United States, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lamy. Lieut. Lamy was on Bataan when it fell to the Japanese, and has been a prisoner of war since that time.

The message to Mrs. Lamy was from Washington, D. C., November 8, stating: "Following enemy broadcast from Japan has been intercepted." There were no further explanations. The message, apparently intercepted, reads in part:

"My dearest Mary Alice, have been transferred to Japan and am glad to be out of the tropics. Am in excellent health and almost bursting with eagerness to see you. Spent several weeks with Ralph H. and Bill J., Jr., both well. Ralph told me my cards reached you and have had letters from Mother Lamy and Mother and Dad Messerly."

"Your packages caught up with my travels also. Packages arrived O. K. I enjoyed them."

Then follows a personal message. The signature is John—First Lieutenant, his serial number is given and the following from the provost marshal.

"This broadcast supplements all previous reports. 'Lerch, Provost Marshal Gen.'"

Mrs. Lamy is now with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Messerly, in St. Louis, Mich., and the message, delivered to the West Broadway address, which is the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johns, was accepted, and then sent on to Michigan.

Mr. Johns stated today that the Ralph referred to in the message is believed to be an Oklahoma doctor who had crossed with Dr. Lamy. The Bill J., Jr., he believes may be Capt. E. W. Jones, Jr., Sedalia, who was also on Bataan.

David Hicks III In Columbia

David Hicks, attending the University of Missouri, son of Wilson Hicks, executive editor of Life Magazine and Mrs. Hicks, became suddenly ill early Monday morning with acute appendicitis and was operated on at the University hospital, Columbia, that day. He is getting along nicely.

Wilson Hicks, father of the young man, flew immediately from New York to his son's bedside and returned to New York Wednesday.

Sgt. Beverly Sullivan Died on Cherbourg Battlefield July 6

Mrs. Virginia B. Sullivan, 406 North Grand avenue, whose husband, Sgt. Charles Beverly Sullivan, was killed in action in France in July, today received a letter from the commanding officer of his infantry regiment, Lieut. Col. John H. McAleer.

Mrs. Sullivan was notified by the War Department August 6 of the death of her husband on July 6. Sgt. Sullivan entered service in June of 1942 and had been overseas two months when he was killed.

The colonel's letter follows: "Dear Mrs. Sullivan: 'Your husband, Sgt. Charles B. Sullivan, was killed in action on the battlefield July 6, 1944, while serving as a member of this regiment during the campaign following the capture of Cherbourg.'"

"Security regulations forbid my going into details at present as to exact time, place and circumstances of death. Nevertheless, I write these few lines, knowing they can in no way decrease or soften your sense of loss, to assure you that he died bravely and that his regiment mourns the loss of a soldier whose place in its ranks may be filled, but not his place in their hearts."

Sincerely,
John H. McAleer,
Lt. Col., Infantry
Commanding.

Absentee Vote Count Friday

Absentee ballots in Pettis county would affect nine races in the recent election in Sedalia, there being 624 ballots returned to County Clerk J. H. Green. Counting of these ballots will begin on Friday morning at 10 o'clock and it may continue two days, however judges of election are of the opinion the counting may be completed by late Friday evening.

There are 532 soldier ballots and 92 civilian absentee ballots. Republicans are claiming the majority of the civilian votes and a good portion of the soldier ballots because of their activity in having requests made for the absentee ballots. Democrats on the other hand are counting on a majority of the soldier ballots because of results of the count of war ballots in other states, while they believe they will have an even break in the civilian ballots.

Nipponese Opposition Very Tough

Americans Also Have to Fight Typhoon and Terrain Difficulties

By C. Yates McDaniel
GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 9.—(P)—(Via Army Radio)—Weather beaten Yanks, their lines spread thin and their supplies bogged down, are fighting extremely tough Japanese opposition and a 100-mile-an-hour typhoon in the battle for the road to Ormoc today.

Elements of four Japanese divisions, including the crack First, are making the Americans pay dearly for every ridge in the Pinamopan area.

Only a trickle of supplies is reaching the Yanks because of the roads made impassable by the storm, while many advance units are conserving their ammunition and in some cases going without food.

Maj. Gen. Irving, 24th division commander told Fred Hampson, Associated Press war correspondent with the 24th, he was convinced a heavy Japanese concentration is across his front and that it will take a powerful assault to clear it out.

He added that the Carigara coast road is in such bad condition because of mud and washouts it cannot supply such an attack until a stock pile of supplies is built up at Pinamopan.

Japs Bugged Down Too

The general said Japanese failure to attack the American coastal holdings may mean that he has been caught off balance or his supplies, too, are bogged down.

The Americans are fighting "in the toughest terrain I ever saw, and this storm hasn't helped," said Irving. "Because of the size of the Jap force we've had to spread ourselves a bit thin."

Spencer Davis, another Associated Press war correspondent with the 24th, in a dispatch filed yesterday, but delayed in transmission, described an assault by American troops on one assault by moon valley ridges during the height of a howling wind and rain storm. The Japs fled leaving shattered mounds of unburied dead behind.

Still indecisive, the battle centered in ridges abutting a horse-shoe bend, with the tiny village of Limon as its focal point. Neither side claimed victory. General MacArthur's communique stated simply that "heavy fighting on the ridge lines is taking place on the winding road."

Their Own Warfare

The Japanese commander newly appointed General Tomoyuki Yamashita, declared only that the Americans "will find out that conditions here in the Philippines are entirely different. Here in the Philippines... we can give free play to our warfare." His broadcast, recorded by American agencies, significantly failed to mention actual progress of the western Leyte fighting.

Veterans Will Count Absentees

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9.—(P)—Veterans of World War I will count Kansas City's soldier-sailor ballots tomorrow, John P. Swift, chief deputy election commissioner, said today.

Two veterans from each party, assisted by two board clerks, will be assigned to a ward, Swift said. Most of the day will be required for the count.

The deadline for receiving both soldier and civilian absentee ballots expired at 6 p. m. yesterday. In the mail today there were 40 GI and 10 civilian absentee ballots. They were stamped by the board: "Received too late," Swift added.

Democrats Retain At Least Present Strength In Senate

Election Briefs

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 9.—(P)—Giving evidence of feeling that he was licked by the war and not the Democrats, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey went back to his desk in New York's historic old state capitol today to begin a new role as a defeated candidate who remains the titular head of his party.

DETROIT, Nov. 9.—(P)—A recheck of 81 Wayne county precincts by the board of canvassers indicated today Governor Thomas E. Dewey's lead over President Roosevelt for Michigan's 19 electoral votes had been slashed to 1,657 votes.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—(P)—Returns from eight additional precincts together with revision of returns previously tabulated today gave Gov. Forrest C. Donnell a lead of 9,351 over Attorney General Roy McKittick in their close race for U. S. senator. This represented an overnight gain of 1,830 votes for the Republican candidate. The totals now stand: Donnell 731,971; McKittick 722,620. All but forty of the state's 4,543 precincts have reported, with about 75,000 absentee votes to be counted tomorrow.

Retrns from 424 of 439 precincts in the eighth congressional district race gave: Elmer (R) 48,844; Carnahan (D) 48,646. The first, second and third district races are also undecided and hinge on the absentee count.

Associated Press returns at 2 p. m. (EWT) Thursday, from 120,386 of the country's 130,790 voting units showed the major party popular vote as: Roosevelt 23,831,460; Dewey 20,926,079. Total 44,757,539.

Sale of War Bonds Starts In Sedalia

The sale of War Bonds has started in Sedalia for the national Sixth War Loan drive, said C. L. Hanley today. As chairman of the Pettis county War Finance committee, Hanley and the other members of the committee are planning the big one-day bond rally for Pettis county which will be held on Thursday, November 16. The day will be headlined with the appearance of Colonel Arthur G. "Buck" Salisbury who has recently returned from the European theater of war.

"Bonds purchased or subscribed for between now and the Bond day will go toward the Pettis county quota of $784,000.00," Hanley said. "Applications for bonds may be obtained from any of the Sedalia banks," he added, "and also at the Bond Headquarters in the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce office."

Anticipate Early Announcement

Ben P. Robinson and Ed Mulaley, co-chairmen of the War Finance committee in Sedalia, said that they would like to make it possible for Colonel Salisbury to announce at 4 o'clock next Thursday that Pettis county has gone over the top in the Sixth War Loan. Those not able to subscribe for war bonds on that day may do so now. In order that all subscribers will not have to wait until the last minute of November 16, Robinson said that applications for bonds may be made now.

A large number of slogans for the war bond drive have been received at Bond Headquarters from school pupils of Pettis county. They are being judged by the War Finance committee and the winners will be announced as soon as possible, perhaps in the next two days.

Must Uphold FDR Policy

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—(P)—Governor-elect Phil M. Donnelly told the Post-Dispatch today that in appointing a United States senator to succeed Vice President-elect Harry S. Truman he would select a Democrat who was "thoroughly in accord with President Roosevelt's foreign policy."

"The people of the United States in the election Tuesday, gave their approval of the president's policies, and his international policy was a direct issue in the campaign," the paper quoted Donnelly as saying. "He is entitled to a senate which will support him in his policies. In naming a senator I shall appoint a Democrat who will support the president."

Donnelly insisted he had given no thought as to whom he would name to serve out Truman's unexpired term after the latter becomes vice president on Jan. 20.

THE STORY: Leo Kabateck, lately broke, has signed a contract to handle the legal end of racketeer Virgil Boggio's vast enterprises. Kabateck is not entirely happy about the arrangement but the fees are large and, besides, Boggio holds an incriminating paper with his signature.

THE first thing I did was rush to the bank, cash the check, and open an account. It was only when I had the crisp new check book safely in my pocket that I really felt that everything was the way I wanted it to be. Somehow I'd been afraid that Boggio might change his mind at the last minute and stop payment. Now it was too late.

One of the strangest things about the human mind is its remarkable adaptability to new circumstances. This minute was one of the highlights of my existence and I should have been half crazy with joy. And here I was, walking calmly down the street and making plans for the future.

After awhile I realized I was famished, so I went into a drugstore. I sat down at the counter, ordered a ham sandwich and a cup of coffee, and then laughed at myself. I'd just been thinking about the adaptability of the human mind and yet I'd unconsciously followed the same impulse of leaner days. With a check book and two hundred bucks in the cash in my pocket, I should have gone to the best joint in town to celebrate, and here I was in a drugstore warming with twenty-five dollar a week salesclerk.

The boy shoved the sandwich at me. "Something to drink?" he inquired.

"Coffee," I said.

No wonder we were on opposite sides of the counter. I always order my coffee together with my lunch, and invariably the soda jerks ask me if I'll have erican products be given them for re-export, but only that they get lend lease raw materials to revive their crippled industries.

One proposal is to set up a new post-war lend lease court composed of one Britisher and two Americans which would decide which goods could be used for British trading purposes.

The whole plan will be submitted to congress probably before Christmas and promises to be full of controversy.

Note — General Pat Hurley and Jim Landis, U. S. economic administrator in Cairo, both submitted scorching reports on the use of British lend lease in the Near East, claimed it was being used to bolster British trade. Recently, however, Landis has been more satisfied.

Army's Pre-Fabricated Bridges

One of the great but little known stories of the western front is the way in which Army engineers got a group of bridge experts together nearly two years ahead of the European invasion and designed fabricated sections of bridges which would exactly replace specific bridges in France, Holland and Belgium.

Through the European underground, army engineers were able to get exact measurements of the bridges which they knew would be destroyed by the retreating Nazis. Each part was numbered and special assembly crews, trained in England, rehearsed the job of putting them in place.

When the invasion came, these bridges travelled so close behind our advancing armies that they were frequently ahead of the field kitchens. And on arrival at a destroyed bridge, its replacement was a matter of hours.

Cool Witness Before Senators

Least ruffled witness before a congressional committee in a long time was George K. Simmons, publisher of the Philadelphia Trade Union News.

This is the sheet which first published the story linking Sidney Hillman with a group of New York racketeers, plus the series of pictures which put President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Fanny Perkins and other high government officials alongside Lepke, Gurrah and various members of Murder, Inc., some of whom have now been electric-chaired.

This story was later published in pamphlet form by the Pennsylvania state Republican committee — which, however, omitted to identify itself as the publisher of the three million copies.

Simmons appeared last week before the senate campaign expenditures committee. Headmaster of the Trade Union News lists E. B. Faunce as "publisher and managing editor." Asked to identify Faunce, Simmons said he was the printshop foreman. Simmons himself is editor — with no editorial staff.

Although Simmons published the Hillman story, he did not attempt to check the facts. He did, however, publish a box stating that the editors of the Trade Union had gone to great pains to get the story and give their readers the facts. He admitted, under questioning by Senator Joe Ball, that this was published "just to impress the readers."

Asked the circulation of the paper, Simmons replied, "I told you gentlemen 20,000. Actually, it's about 2,000." Senator Homer Ferguson sharply remarked that Simmons had earlier said "20,000" while under oath.

When Ball quizzed him about his staff — or, rather, his lack of a staff — Simmons explained that he did not need a staff because the paper prints only labor news.

"I see," Ball replied, looking at the screaming headlines linking Hillman with gangsters. "Nothing sensational."

"No, nothing sensational," Simmons grinned back, enjoying the whole situation.

Merry-go-Round

The senate small business committee recently issued a buyers' guide for surplus war property — a catalogue of war goods to help business men purchase different types of surplus government property. Next day, the committee continued eating. But I could see that Salemon was dying. Finally she was unable to restrain herself any longer.

"Are you remaining in the city?" she asked.

That was just like her. She was too genteel to come out with the direct question: "Where are you moving to?" and had to use a circumlocution. I thought I'd make her sit up and take notice.

"You'll probably find me at the Columbus Towers," I said, casually.

If I'd suddenly started taking off my clothes and paraded around the table in the nude, Salemon's jaw couldn't have dropped lower.

"Why don't you make it the Waldorf?" she asked.

They now began taking me seriously. Maybe it was the tone of my voice, or perhaps my suppressed excitement was beginning to creep out all over. The suspense was becoming unbearable for all of them.

"An inheritance, maybe?" queried Ruskin.

There was a long pause and then I let them have it.

"Ten years ago," I began dramatically, "I helped an old lady across the street. Her hands were shaking and she was poorly dressed but I treated her as if she were my own mother. Although she asked me my name I never gave it another thought. Last week she died. After they'd given her a pauper's burial they ripped open her mattress. And what do you think they found?"

You could have heard a pin drop.

"What?" breathed Ruskin.

"Bedbugs," I said.

Was I getting hammy! But they all went into convulsions, with the exception of Salemon who shuddered.

"I don't think that's funny," she said.

At any rate the general curiosity was dampened for the time being, and I was able to continue eating without going into any embarrassing explanations. If a fellow knows how to mingle truth with fiction and has people guessing all the time, he can always keep the situation well in hand.

Concert Monday By Symphony

Two first presentations in Sedalia will be on the program of the Sedalia Symphony orchestra at its opening concert of the season Monday night at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium.

Selections from the currently popular musical play, "Oklahoma!" by Richard Rodgers will be heard, and the orchestra will also present for the first time here the "Red Cavalry March" by Morton Gould, contemporary composer, whose works have been featured in recent seasons by major symphony orchestra, including both the St. Louis Symphony and the Kansas City Philharmonic. The latter gave an initial presentation of Red Cavalry March last spring.

Indicative of the programming alertness of the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra's conductor, Abe Rosenthal, the "Oklahoma!" suite will be played in Kansas City at a concert Sunday afternoon by the Kansas City Philharmonic.

4th Infantry Has New C.O.

Lt. Col. Lee Carl Overstreet of the State Staff, Missouri State Guard, Columbia, has recently succeeded Col. Rex P. Barrett as Commanding Officer, 4th Infantry, Missouri State Guard. Col. Overstreet has been with the Missouri University several years as Professor of Law and the 4th Infantry is fortunate in having a man such as Col. Overstreet as the Commanding Officer. Company "F" Sedalia is directly under his command. Col. Rex P. Barrett served during the organization period of the State Guard and members of the 4th Infantry appreciated his leadership during the trying period of the last three years.

Tuesday night Company "F" had recruit training in Close Order drill and training in the Manual of Arms. On Tuesday nights the new recruits can drill and prepare for the regular Thursday night training.

Friday night between 9 p. m. and 12 p. m. Company "F" invites the public to their harvest dance and entertainment, music to be furnished by the Four Jacks and Queen and refreshments served. Those that do not care to dance will have an opportunity to see the new Armory and enjoy the music, or enjoy themselves at cards. This is a benefit dance.

Guardmen receive no pay and this is one way they have of raising money for necessary equipment not furnished by the state.

The bride, who is a graduate of the Montgomery high school, attended Central Business college in Sedalia and was employed as a stenographer at the Taystee bakery company. While here she resided at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, 828 West Sixth street.

The chancel of the church was decorated with fall flowers and lighted candles for the wedding. The bride wore a white wool ensemble with a corsage of red roses and navy blue accessories. She was attended by Miss Shirley M. Barton, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a corsage of pink roses and black accessories.

The best man was Harold J. Adams of North Swazey, who took the place of his son, Cpl. Harold W. Adams, recently assigned to overseas duty as a reception at the home of the bridgroom's parents followed.

The soloist was Romeo J. Brisebois of the Unitarian men's choir, who sang, "O, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Catherine C. Ames.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left by auto for a short wedding trip, following which they traveled by train to Yuma, Ariz., where Cpl. Barton reported October 28 for special training on bombers before being assigned to overseas duty as a radio operator. The couple met while he was stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field. The traveling costume of the bride was brown tweed with brown accessories.

The following children played compositions they had written themselves: Dorothy Jane Anderson, Jincy Dunham, Joyce Wilson and Bobby Williams.

Original musical instruments were brought and played by Bobby Rice, Bobby Williams, Dorothy Jane Anderson and Jincy Dunham.

Value of Musical Therapy

Mrs. Tyree G. Newbill, president of the Missouri Federation of Music clubs, and Mrs. Hart Dierks, state chairman of Music in Hospitals, both of Kansas City, were guest speakers at Helen G. Steele Music club's observance of Federation Day Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. at Heard Memorial clubhouse. Mrs. John P. Mansfield, also of Kansas City, was a third out-of-town guest.

Mrs. E. F. Yancey, life president of the local club, presided over the meeting and Mrs. A. R. Beach served as program chairman.

Junior winners in district contests sponsored last April by the Missouri Federation of Music clubs were presented by Mrs. Charles Goodnight, junior department chairman, in the following piano program:

Primary division—"Yellow Butterflies," Elaine Bohon; "Flying Horse," Mary Janssen; "Voices of Spring," Claude Boul.

Moderately difficult division—"Scotch Poem" (MacDowell), Mabel Helen DeWitt; "Etude" (MacDowell), Donald Gene Wells. Difficult division—"Hungarian" (MacDowell), Ruth Ann Yunker; "Praeludium" (MacDowell), Hubert Sewell.

Duo piano division—"Gondoliers" (Nevin), Ruth Ann Keuper and Donald Gene Wells; "A Spanish-Folk Song," Ruth Ann Yunker and Hubert Sewell.

Introduced by Mrs. Beach, Mrs.

were made at the conclusion of the meeting.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday, October 22, at 3:00 p. m. at the Fifth Street Methodist church when Miss Columbia Jane Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cook of Beaman, became the bride of Mr. Leslie Carl Cole, son of Dow Cole of Pilot Grove.

The church was decorated with autumn flowers and two seven-branch candelabra. Miss Mabel DeWitt, organist, a former music teacher of the bride, and Miss Edith Morgan, violinist, played "Through the Years" as Miss Ona Rages of Kansas City came down the aisle to light the candles. She wore an aqua dress with corsage of yellow roses.

The bride was attired in a gold and black suit, her hat was of black felt with gold sequins and her corsage was talisman roses. She wore her mother's gold necklace.

Miss Hazel Harris of Smithton, maid of honor, wore a blue suit with white collar and blue hat. Her corsage was of pink roses. Ensign Jack Todd of Pilot Grove, now stationed in Florida, was best man.

Miss Mary Jane Anderson and Robert Morris were ushers. Mrs. Ervin Robinson and Miss Frances Brunckhorst sang "I Love You Truly," Miss Brunckhorst sang "Because" and as Rev. Campbell read the double ring ceremony Miss DeWitt softly played "Liebestraum."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was beautifully decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses. A three-tier wedding cake centered the table. Presiding in the dining room were Mrs. I. E. Davis of St. Louis, Mrs. T. H. Hill or Mora, Miss Ona Rages and Miss Mary Jane Anderson.

The bride, a graduate of Smithton high school, attended Central Business college, Sedalia, after which she was employed at the County Extension agent's office. For the past four and one-half years she has been Pettis county rural music supervisor, which position she resigned in August.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home to their friends on the bridegroom's large farm seven miles from Pilot Grove on Route E, which is newly furnished and decorated.

Newbill and Mrs. Dierks spoke to the juniors, "the pride and joy of the federation," emphasizing the great value of music to youth—not only as a source of inspiration and happiness, but also as a medium to cherished friendships and experiences.

Sedalia's Club Model

"Sedalia has a model federation club," prefaced Mrs. Newbill in her address to the club on "Federation Unlimited in Tomorrow's World," subheaded "Music in All Life's Areas."

"What we make of our lives," stated Mrs. Newbill, "is indicative of the sort of persons we are. One of the most important things in life is the spiritualizing force of music, a form of beauty. The influential scope of music in human life is wide-sweeping, extending from the lullaby to the funeral dirge. Even in the ugly phases of life music has a place; martial strains definitely strengthen the courage and will of the warrior."

In commenting on the salutary possibilities in establishing peace, Mrs. Newbill quoted Longfellow's lines, "Music is the universal language of mankind," and strove to reveal benefits the art might proffer in the Good Neighbor policy and elimination of race prejudice. "Everyone thinks in terms of the kingdom of God," concluded the speaker. "If the kingdom of God is the beauty within our hearts, surely music will glorify that beauty."

"Musical Therapy," an intensely interesting subject and one most opportune now that the world must undertake an immense rehabilitation program, was discussed by Mrs. Hart Dierks, who took eight weeks of the science in the only such training school, in New York.

Musical Therapy Idea

"The idea of musical therapy, the psychological approach of music to the sick," explained Mrs. Dierks, "although just beginning to be practiced in the United States, is by no means new. Recorded in the Scriptures is the incident of Saul who, mentally troubled by the condition of his kingdom, hired David as his personal harpist. All hospitals of the Persians, at the time they ruled three-fourths of Europe, were equipped with music rooms, and Greeks made extensive use of music in healing the sick."

"Music is sound; sound is vibration; all sound, whether it be music or the retort of a shot, affects the nervous system. There are three phases of the musical therapy treatment—the physiological, the psychological and the spiritual," the speaker declared.

The physiological aspect was explained when Mrs. Dierks told of visiting an orthopaedic ward at Ellis Island hospital where European casualties are sent for redistribution to hospitals specializing in treatment of their type of wounds or disease. In this particular ward, despite the tragic nature of many injuries, the boys usually seem in good spirits; they march to the music and selections with a lilt, accented rhythm are used. It is a scientific fact that this type of music creates a stimulation of the blood stream sufficient to aid in feeding and healing the broken and diseased bones. "Prescribed" music, it has been discovered, is often effective, physically speaking, when medicines and drugs fail.

Caution Required

Extreme caution is required when dealing with the psychological phase of the science, as different personalities react in various ways to the same music, revealed the speaker. Instruments are usually muted and only pieces of gentle, quiet beauty are used with patients requiring this treatment, in order to effect a soothing, stabilizing atmosphere. Nervous patients are worn out by varied emotions and selections must be edited to exclude measures which might produce further shock or stimulation.

No music in minor keys is used in musical therapy, as it is depressing. Stage mannerisms are entirely abandoned by the performer for pure informality. In lieu of the difficult-to-secure concert harp, the ideal instrument for these treatments, small hand harps, descendants of the ancient zither, are used. Voice, violin and piano prove also effective. The science of musical therapy, believed only in its initial stages, is undergoing development through research at the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C. Those qualifying as workers in the science should know psychology, physiology and sociology in addition to music.

In commenting on music and the spiritual realm, Mrs. Dierks pointed out that only when the performer actually feels the emotion the composer intended to depict (love, joy, sorrow) can he transmit successfully that quality. He may play and music remains sound; he may feel and play and music is transfigured, becoming spiritual beauty.

In a program arranged by Mrs. Beach to demonstrate the type of music used in therapy, Mrs. Robert Seelen, accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox, sang "Believe Me If All Those Enduring Young Charms," (Moore); Mrs. John M. Rodeman, violinist, accompanied by Miss Fox, played "Meditation from Thais" (Massenet), and Miss Fox played parts of Rubenstein's "Kamennio-Ostrow." Demonstrating the small hand harp in bedside work, Mrs. Dierks played Brahms' "Lullabye" and "Love's Old, Sweet Song" while the group hummed softly, and followed this by showing the effect of various rhythms alone, without melody. About two dozen persons attended a luncheon honoring the out-of-town guests which preceded the program.

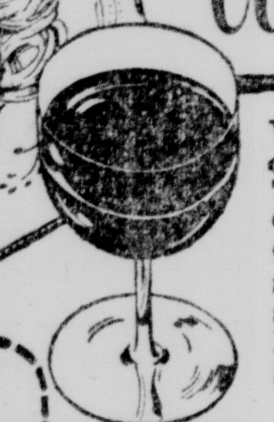

To honor the memory of the boys who gave THEIR LIVES in World War I and the heroes who followed them in World War II in gallantly giving their life blood that WE MAY CONTINUE TO ENJOY FREEDOM...

Sports Roundup
By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(P)—Between now and New Year's day a lot of folks who are promoting football games to sell war bonds and for other worthy causes are bound to be disappointed. . . . The biggest attraction, of course, would be to shift the Army-Navy game to a big city but that won't happen. . . . Next best likely would be another kind of Army-Navy tussle, say, Randolph Field against Bainbridge, but chances are that won't be arranged, either. . . . Everybody wants Randolph but the word is that after the Dec. 10 game with the Fourth Air Force, the Texas Fliers will be waiting for Bowl lightning to strike. . . . And the navy teams will have difficulty getting permission to play such proposed tilts as Bainbridge-Camp Peary (return match scheduled Nov. 25) at Baltimore and Fort Pierce, Fla., Amphibs vs. the Chicago Bears at Miami.

M. U. Tigers To Oklahoma On Saturday
All Big Six Teams Playing Conference Games This Week
By Arthur Edson
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9.—(P)—Everything points to a landslide, both electoral and popular, when Missouri and Oklahoma mix in football Saturday, except —
Except that every time Missouri gets around a gridiron, the darnedest things happen.
Every prognosticator admits that Missouri is his No. 1 problem child — a team as full of whimsy as a Lewis Carroll poem.
Item: Its game with Iowa State, in which Missouri was supposed to be easy pickings for the Iowans, but came out with a tie.
Item: Its game with Nebraska in which it was supposed to win in a trot, but lost.
Item: Its game with undefeated Michigan State, in which it was supposed to lose in a trot, but won.
Looking for an Upset
So the hope-springs-eternal boys will be looking for an upset, even though everything points to Oklahoma. For the Sooners, leading the Big Six and red hot after their second straight Big Six title, have the edge in comparative scores, and the edge in experience.
Missouri, on the other hand, not only has had a season as spotty as the cook's apron in a hamburger joint, but it also is Oklahoma City bound without five more or less regulars.
Left behind are Bill Dellastatus, one of the Big Six's finest halfbacks, who pines on the injured list; Jack O'Connell, fullback, who has a cracked rib; Homer Meier, center, who has a cracked arm; Ed Quirk, fullback, and Joe Campbell, center.
Quirk and Campbell have spent almost enough time around the hospital this season to qualify as interns.
But, remembering Missouri's topsy-turvy record, the Sooners aren't likely to take much for granted.
Teams that do, rue.
Iowa State vs. Nebraska
While Oklahoma and Missouri are transacting the conference's main business, Iowa State will be trying to forget about how its dreams of glory were ruined by Oklahoma and what would be nicer to aid in that forgetting than a victory over Nebraska? . . . Kansas and Kansas State collide over State's rights. Kansas State's Ronnie Webster and Dana Atkins were practicing place kicks from 35 yards out yesterday. That probably is a result of K-State's tendency to be menacing as everything until deep in scoring territory — where after four downs it too often unconditionally surrenders.

Expect Farmers To 'Stand Pat'
By Ovid A. Martin
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(P)—President Roosevelt is expected by farm leaders to stand pat—at least 'til war's end—on present farm policies and the top personnel in farm and food agencies.
A heavy out-turn of votes for Thomas E. Dewey in Tuesday's election in midwestern farm states will lead to little if any change, in wartime farm programs, farm price supports and food rationing, say agricultural leaders both in and out of the administration.
Capital observers expect Mr. Roosevelt to retain Claude R. Wickard as secretary of agriculture at least until the war emergency is over. Likewise Marvin Jones is expected to be kept on the job as war food administrator until that agency is liquidated.
Some believe the President may make a change in the farm secretaryship when peace comes and farm commodity control programs now under the WFA are returned to the agriculture department.
Present farm policies call for continued heavy production of food to meet war needs and for government support of farm prices at levels considerably above those prevailing before the war. To carry out the price guarantees, Mr. Roosevelt may soon ask congress for a $2,000,000,000 increase in the funds of the commodity credit corporation, the agency which has financed the bulk of the war food production programs.

"PRESTONE" Anti-Freeze KEEPS MOVING UP TO THE FRONT!

THE WAR PRODUCTION BOARD, with the cooperation of the Anti-Freeze Industry Advisory Committee, has put into effect a state allocation plan for the distribution of all brands of anti-freeze. This is your assurance that there should be enough anti-freeze of some kind to protect the nation's motorized equipment this winter.
However, "Prestone" brand anti-freeze may not be available in some localities. The supply for civilian use is considerably reduced because heavy shipments are going overseas for the Armed Forces.
If you are able to get "Prestone" anti-freeze remember that it lasts all winter. It won't evaporate, boil away or lose effectiveness through "foaming." Protects against rust and corrosion.

Germans Bomb With A New Long Range Powerful Rocket

By E. V. W. Jones

LONDON, Nov. 9—(AP)—The German high command declared Wednesday the London area was under bombardment by the vengeance weapon V-2, reported to be a long-range rocket which propels a ton or more of explosives over a 50-mile-high trajectory at 700 miles an hour.

Neutral sources have said the enemy also intended to use the weapon against New York.

The announcement was the opening paragraph of the daily communiqué broadcast from Berlin.

"The area of greater London has been under fire by the V-1 (robot bombs) since June 15 with short interruptions and in varying strength," said the Nazi announcement.

"The fire has been intensified for some weeks past by the use of a second and far more effective explosive missile, V-2."

The possibility of robot bomb attacks on the United States was acknowledged by the war and navy department at Washington yesterday.

These bombs might be launched by submarines or catapult plane carriers lying offshore, a joint statement said, or from one-way sacrifice flights by long-range bombers controlled across the Atlantic by submarines.

(British censorship apparently forbade any direct comment on the German announcement as to whether the V-2 missiles were doing any damage.)

Neutrals Describe Weapon

The Germans offered no description of their reported new weapon of hate, but this was not lacking from neutral sources. Associated Press War Correspondent Austin Bealmear, quoting U. S. Third army sources, wrote Sept. 29 from "somewhere in France":

"The latest of the German's vengeance weapons is a 14-ton projectile with an explosive radius of three kilometers (1.8 miles). Information on V-3 (Bealmear unquestionably meant V-2) was obtained by the American Third army troops' drive into Germany."

According to this information, the projectile is 20 yards long, five and a half feet in diameter and weighs 14 tons at the take-off.

"It is propelled by a mixture of liquid air and alcohol and is shot into the air vertically," Bealmear wrote.

Swedish reports have described V-2 as a "flying telegraph pole" with tail fins like an ordinary bomb. Some 50 feet long, it was said to have a comet's tail behind it and travel faster than sound, so that it strikes before it is heard."

Protests Made On Location For City Dump

Mrs. J. G. Crawford Will Represent City At Ship Launching

Two large delegations, one from south of the city, one from north-east of the city, attended the recessed meeting of the City Council Wednesday night. Both were objecting to the location of a city dump in their respective localities.

One delegation consisted of residents near the South Kentucky avenue road, where a plot of ground, which the city contracted to buy, is located, and on which it had been planned to locate a dumping ground. The other delegation was from the old Fischer lake district where the City Council had thought of locating a dump, but decided against it in favor of the south of town location.

Fred F. Wesner represented the delegation from south of the city. He set forth a number of reasons why they did not want the dump in that location. Most of the people, he said, own their own property, they have nice homes, and a dump in the neighborhood is not desirable. He stated it could become unsightly and unsanitary, because when there is a heavy rain the debris would be washed over the countryside, and possibly into Flat Creek. Trash, glass and other debris might be strewn along the road to the dump, which would not only be unsightly, but most objectionable for other reasons.

Will Consider Objections

Mayor A. H. Wilks said the Council will give due consideration to their protest. Richard Keenan, second ward alderman, chairman of the sewer and sanitation committee, said that the most important reason for not locating the dump in either location, to him, would be the fact the people do not want it. "I do not want to force anything on anyone," he said. "We want to get along with all you folks, because we need you and you need us."

To Launch Liberty Ship

Mrs. Jack Crawford, Sedalia, who is temporarily living in Washington, while her husband, Capt. Crawford, is assigned to duty there, will represent Sedalia at the launching of the Liberty ship to be sponsored by Sedalia, it was stated by Herbert Seifert, chairman of a committee looking after the matter. She had been asked to officiate, he said, because she is already in Washington. Women of the American Legion Auxiliary and War Mothers will provide books for the ship, and the auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars a placque. Mrs. Crawford's husband and two sons are in the service.

The ship will probably be launched about January 6, Mr. Seifert reported.

Request Day Off To Firemen

A request made by a fireman to give the firemen one day off a month was referred to the fire and water committee. Frank Royce, chairman of the committee, said it had been recommended to him that the arrangement could be made if an extra man was employed fifteen days a month. Leo Eickhoff gave it as his opinion the situation with the firemen is not similar to that of the police. Some of the firemen, he said, work on days when they are on night duty, they often get a night's sleep and then work all the next day on another job.

Renewal licenses to sell liquor by the drink were granted to Clyde and Earl Paul, 117 West Main street, and Albert Cassing, 212 South Ohio avenue. A license was granted to Leonard Kroencke to sell package liquor at 112 South Ohio avenue.

Richard Keenan brought up the fact that there had been complaints of teen-agers frequenting some of the taverns. Leo Eickhoff suggested the liquor license inspector be asked to warn the proprietors of the complaints.

Asks Extradition Of E. J. Martin

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 9—(AP)—Gov. F. C. Donnell Wednesday signed extradition papers to bring Edward Jewett Martin back from North Carolina to face murder charges at Booneville in connection with the bizarre slaying last spring of his wealthy grandmother, Mrs. Edward M. Jewett.

In applying for the extradition writ, Cooper county prosecutor, Thomas G. Woolsey said Martin, 24-year-old Charlotte, N. C., chemist, had signed a confession he killed his grandmother in Cooper county last May by pushing her from her Packard sedan and running over her body with the car.

Mrs. Jewett's body was found last summer in the bed of Eastwood lake near Durham, N. C., after the lake was drained in an effort to locate her body. Martin was arrested last May 13 in North Carolina, three days after Mrs. Jewett was last seen in Booneville, and Martin has been held since then on a North Carolina murder indictment.

'Jimmy' Powell Congratulates Truman

Among those who called on Senator Harry S. Truman Tuesday night, at the penthouse of the Muehlebach hotel, Kansas City, to congratulate him upon his election as vice president, was a former Sedalian, James W. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Powell, now of Kansas City and a grandson of Mrs. W. H. Powell, 209 West Seventh street, this city. The Kansas City Times writes of the visit as follows:

"Into the penthouse with the aid of a cane limped James W. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Powell, 422 East Fifty-fourth street, who suffered a broken hip as a soldier while going over an obstacle course at Camp Lee, Va. Powell was sick for some time at the Walter Reed hospital in Washington and Senator Truman visited him twice there. The young veteran desired to express his gratitude by putting in his best wishes along with many other men and women."
